

The Flow State: Master IELTS Coherence & Cohesion (Band 7+)

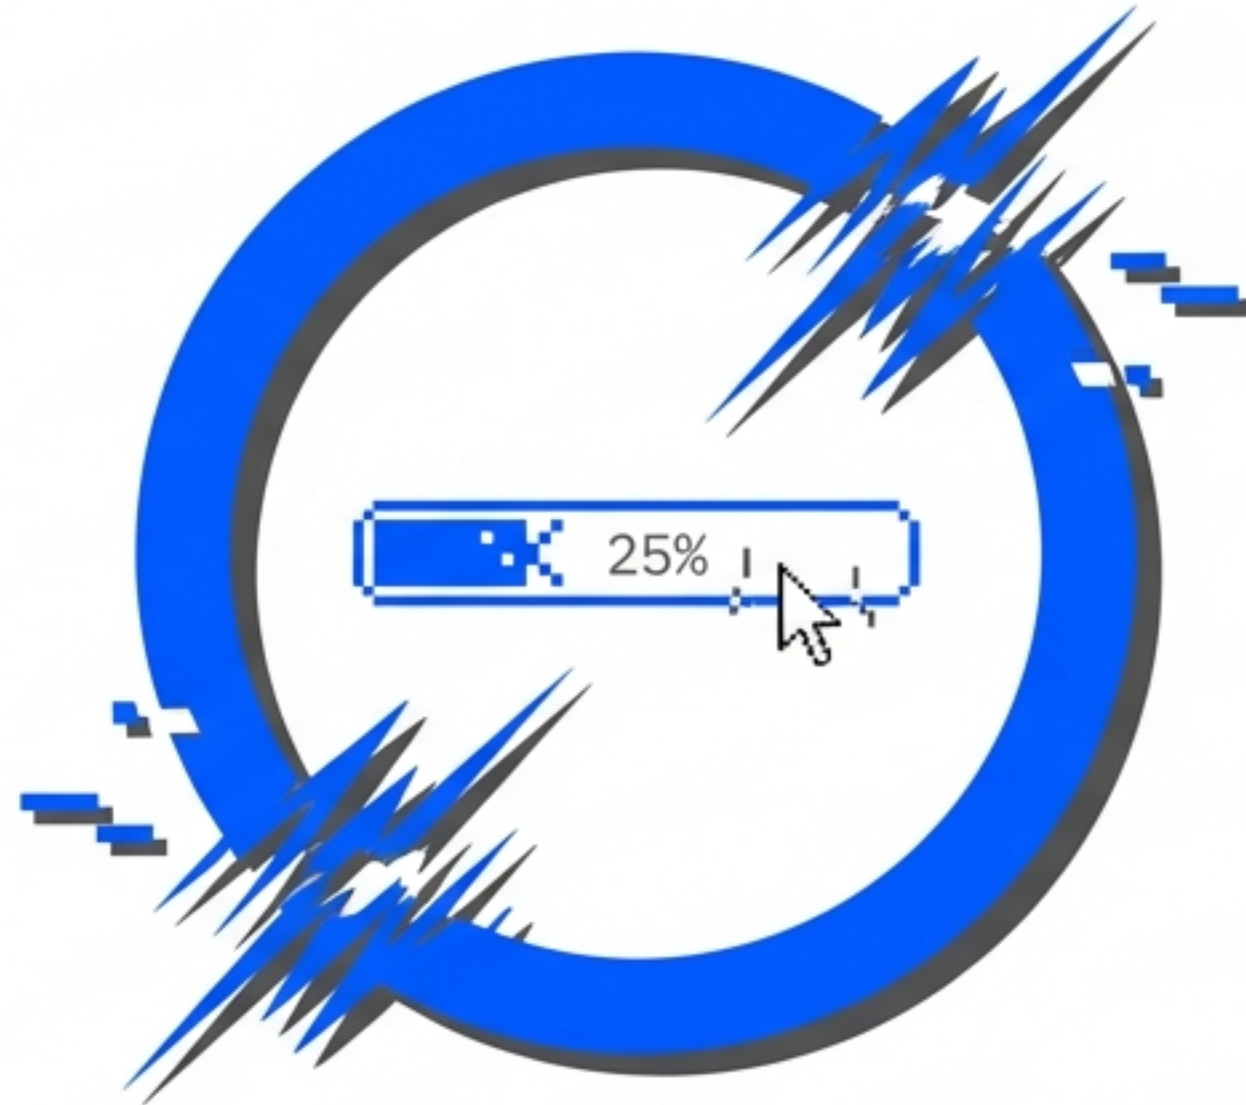

Stop writing like a robot. Start writing with Main Character Energy.

Pro-Tip Writing isn't a chore; it's a skill you can hack. Let's unlock Band 7+.

The NPC Glitch: Mechanical Writing

Ever read an essay that feels like a laggy video or an NPC talking?

Firstly, I agree.
Secondly, education is good.
Moreover, it helps.

Vibe Check

If your essay sounds like a robot reading a dictionary, you're stuck at Band 6.0. Examiners don't want a checklist; they want a conversation.

The Map vs. The Glue

Coherence (The Map)

The big picture. Your logical organization. How you guide the reader from Point A to Point B without getting lost.

Cohesion (The Glue)

The small connections. The words and phrases that seamlessly stick your sentences together.

The Anatomy of a Band 9 Build

Cohesion:

The little bumps that make the bricks click together.

Coherence:

The instruction manual that ensures you're actually building a spaceship, not a messy pile of plastic.

Pro-Tip

You can have all the best vocabulary bricks in the world, but without the manual and the bumps, it's just a pile of words.

Entering the Flow State

When the Map (Logic) and the Glue (Linking) combine effortlessly, your essay flows like a river. The examiner is the passenger on your boat—don't make them hit the rocks.

Power Move

Good writing flows naturally.
Logic > Linking Words.

Why Firstly / Secondly is Mid

The biggest trap keeping smart students at a Band 6.0? Overusing robotic connectors.

Example: Furthermore, moreover, in addition, therefore...

Vibe Check

Dropping a Furthermore at the start of every sentence doesn't make you sound academic. It makes you sound like you memorized a template.

Breaking the Trap: Logic over Labels

Effortlessly flowing paragraphs, — effortlessly flowing signal paragraphs

Information should be logically organized
so that the relationship between sentences.

Effortlessly flowing paragraphs, canne
the text shee light.

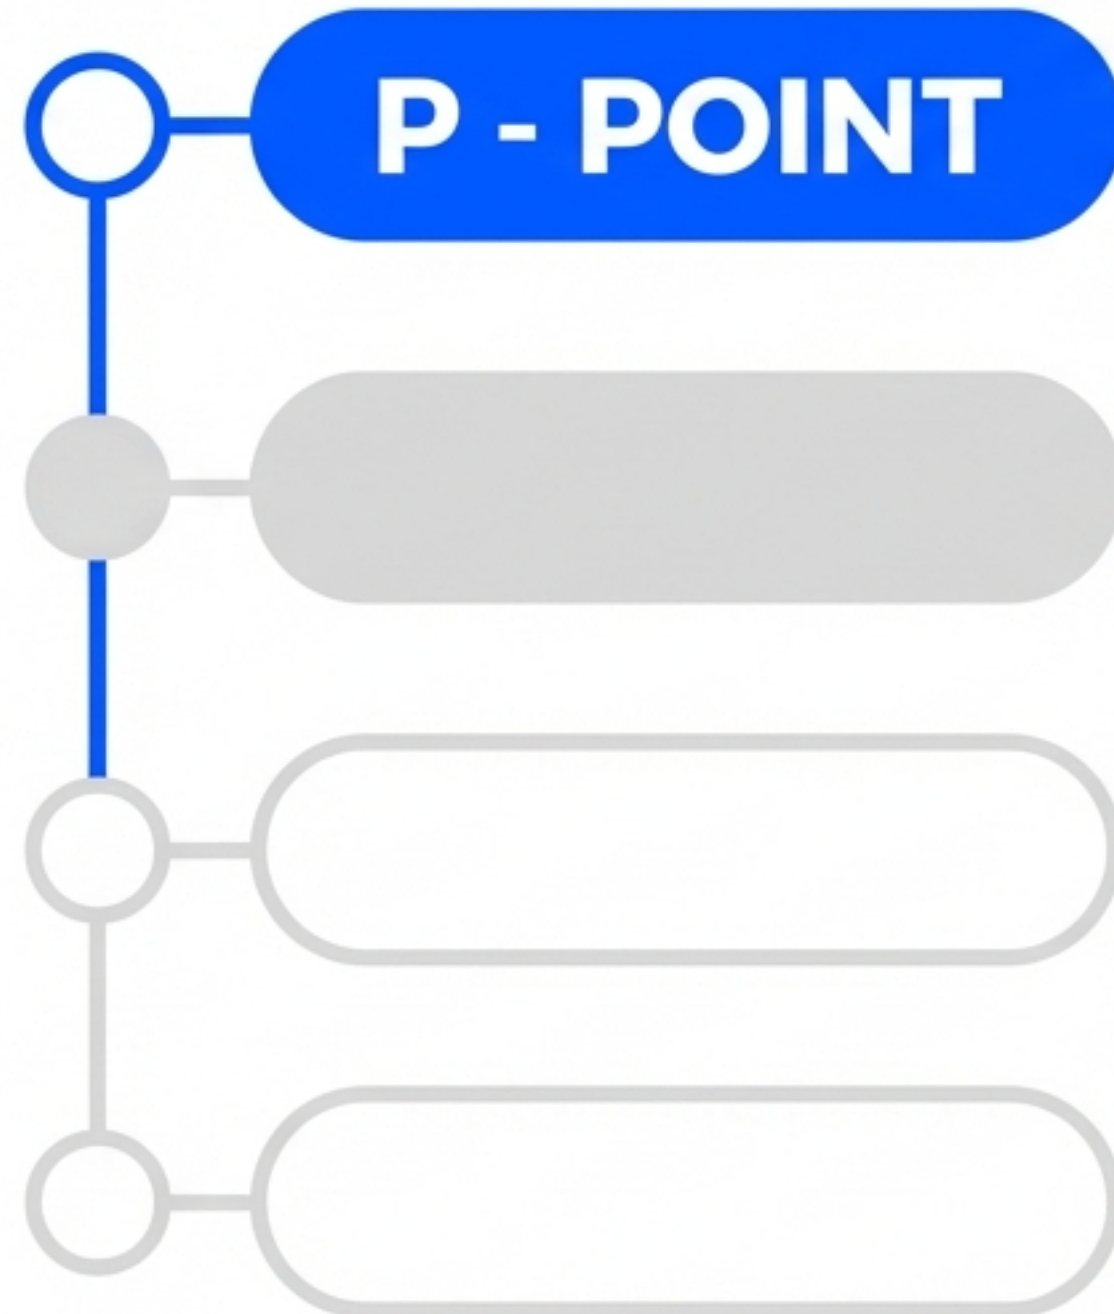

The Fix:

Use transition words only when necessary
to signal a shift (Contrast, Cause/Effect, Addition).

Band 7+ Reality:

Information should be logically organized
so that the relationship between sentences
is obvious, even without the linking word.

The Algorithm: The PEEL Framework

P = Point (The Topic Sentence).

This is your headline. It acts as an umbrella for the entire paragraph. One paragraph = One central idea.

Pro-Tip

Never start a paragraph with an example. Always state your main claim first. Tell them what you are going to prove.

The Algorithm: Backing It Up

P - POINT

E - EVIDENCE

E - EXPLAIN

E = Evidence.

Give an example, a fact, or a scenario that proves your point.

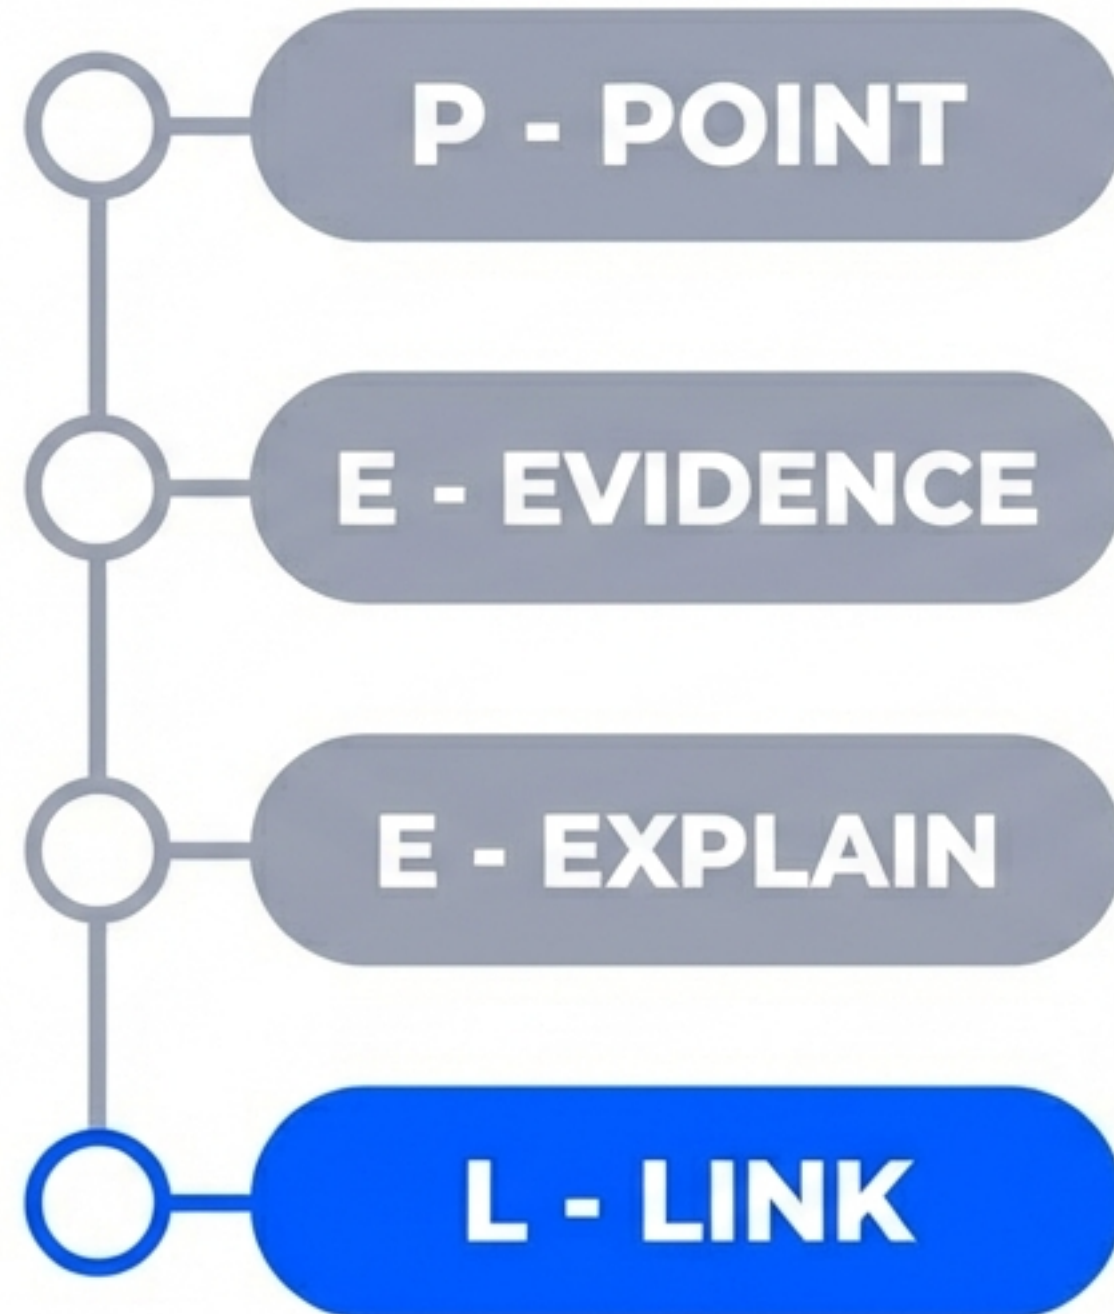

E = Explain.

Answer the So What? Why does this evidence matter? How does it connect back to your main claim?

Power Move

Use an If-Then structure here. Example:
If students do not pay tuition, then they can pursue academics without the burden of debt.

The Algorithm: The Seamless Exit

L = Link (The Concluding Sentence).

Summarize the paragraph's impact or transition smoothly into the next paragraph.

Vibe Check

Don't just drop your argument and run away. Give your paragraph a sense of closure.

Leveling Up: Referencing

Stop repeating the same nouns. Use Referencing to stitch sentences together natively.

Basic

University is free. Free university helps society.

Elite

University is free. This approach helps society.

Power Move

Master the Magic T's: This, These, Those, That, Such. (e.g., Such measures, This trend).

Leveling Up: Substitution

Don't echo. Substitute words to maintain the flow without sounding redundant.

Basic Students should study hard because students need to pass.

Elite Students should study hard because they need to pass. (Or: learners, undergraduates, the former).

Pro-Tip The former and the latter are absolute cheat codes for discussing two opposing views in IELTS Task 2.

The Ultimate Glow Up

Basic - Band 6.0

Firstly, university should be free.
Secondly, students are poor.
Moreover, education is important.
Therefore, it is good.

Elite - Band 8.0

Free higher education promotes equal opportunities. By removing tuition fees, low-income students can pursue academics debt-free. Consequently, this approach builds a highly skilled workforce.

Speedrun Activated

Your Mission: Write ONE body paragraph using the PEEL algorithm.

Prompt: Some believe university education should be free. Others think students should pay. Discuss. (Choose ONE side).

Rules:

- Max 3 linking words.
- Use at least one Referencing Power Move (This/Such).

Vibe Check

Trust the map. Apply the glue. Let it flow.

TL;DR (Too Long; Didn't Read)

- ✓ Coherence = The Map. Organize logically using the PEEL algorithm.
- ✓ Cohesion = The Glue. Click ideas together smoothly.
- ✓ Ditch the NPC script. Logic is more important than memorized linking words.
- ✓ Use Power Moves. Leverage This/These/Such to avoid repeating yourself.

Power Move

You now have the algorithm.
Go secure that Band 7+.
