

Why Fluent Speakers Still Get 6.5

(And How to Actually Get an 8).

The Hard Truth

It's not your grammar. It's not your vocabulary. It's your thinking.

Linear

Lateral

Examiner Psychology

They judge intellectual maturity, not just English.

State → Explain → Stop = Band 6.5.

The 4 Cognitive Layers

Layer 1 & 2 (The Trap)

“Technology is good because it saves time.”

→ Congrats, you just sounded like everyone else.

Layer 3 & 4 (The Elite)

“It transforms global trade.
However, over-reliance
creates societal isolation.”

→ Welcome to Band 8.

The “Zoom In / Zoom Out” Technique

Stop staying in one lane. Shift your perspective mid-answer.

Zoom In (The Micro)

How does this affect the individual?

- Motivation
- Personal finance
- Mental health

Zoom Out (The Macro)

How does this affect the world?

- Economy
- Societal inequality
- Cultural shifts

Live Drill!

60

Topic: "Is competition beneficial?"
Timer: 60 Seconds.

The Conditional Flex

Stop saying
“Yes/No.”

Start saying
“It can be, if...”

Conditional Cheat Sheet

- "It tends to be harmful when..."

- "Provided that it is regulated..."

- "It's a double-edged sword..."

The "Jenga" Examiner Test

Remove one sentence. Does the argument collapse?

If not, you are rambling.
Kill the fluff.

The Hot Seat

Who is brave enough? Let's test the 4 layers live.

The Brain is a Muscle

Practice depth of thought, not just vocabulary.
The words will follow.
